READING
PASSPORT

‘THERE IS NO FRIGATE LIKE A BOOK
TO TAKE US LANDS AWAY...’

With this passport, you can journey to anywhere in the world, as well as through Time and Imagination. While we have plotted routes for you, the reading material you take on your voyage is for the most part up to you.

To travel, you simply read. Each stage represents a BOOK

To reach the next country, finish the book.

The map represents a discovery. Here you must choose a book from the discovery list in the library.

There are three continents to explore at first:

Africa, America and Europe.

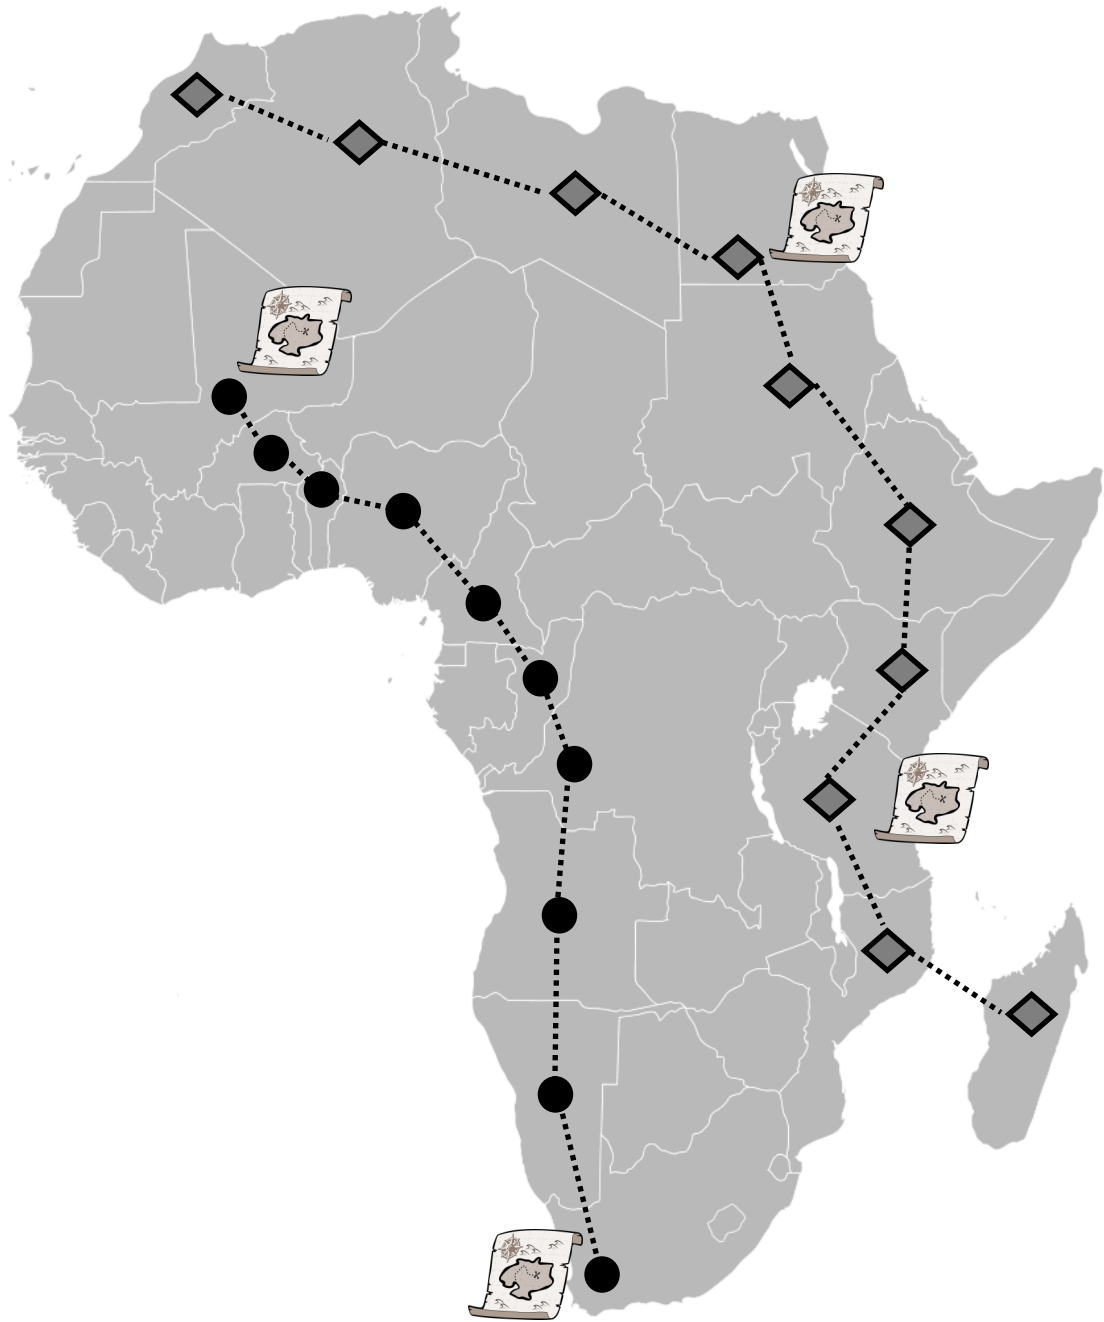

For each country you visit, record the name of the book you are reading and the dates when you began and finished it. Be ready to talk about any books you have journeyed through.

There are rewards for completing each route, culminating in colours for exploring three continents.

As with travelling, however, the real reward is not reaching your destination, but the journey which took you there.

Bon voyage.

KILIMANJARO is Africa's tallest mountain. It is located just where the border between Tanzania and Kenya dinks. This gave rise to the story that Queen Victoria wanted her German grandson to have a mountain to rival Mt. Kenya, so she redrew the boundary.

'Kilima' means mountain in Swahili, so don't call it Mount Kilimanjaro

The Panama Canal is a man-made sea-lane cut through Panama to create a short-cut between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. It is nearly 50 miles long. The tropical rainforest it cuts through is an important factor in controlling the water filling the canal. Therefore this huge engineering project was conducted respecting the nature of its surroundings – which shows it can be done....

Machu Picchu is a 15th century Inca fortress hidden high in the mountains near Cusco. It was not found by the Spanish conquistadors and was only 're-discovered' in 1911 by the American explorer Hiram Bingham.
